Man Shot In Card Game Argument Tuesday

An altercation during a card game Tuesday night resulted in one man being hospitalized and another jailed Tuesday night.

Constable Nolan Kingston, who investigated the shooting, gave the EAGLE the following account of the incident:

"I received a telephone call at 11:45 p.m. from the Ticket Agent, Gaudin Courage, at the L & N depot, who said there was trouble," Kingston reported. "When I arrived I found Richard Debellis 23, the victim of a gunshot wound. I immediately called for Fahy Ambulance Service and had him taken to King's Daughter's Hospital."

"The wounded man," Kingston continued, "apparently had been shot by J. M. Hammonds, 61, foreman of an extra gang on the railroad."

Kingston said that according to witnesses three other men besides those involved were playing cards in the camp car where Hammonds stayed. During the game Hammonds reportedly cursed Debellis. The witnesses said that Debellis insisted that Hammonds refrain from cursing him but that Hammonds continued.

"Debellis then rose from his chair," Constable Kingston related. "As he stood up Hammonds pulled a .38 calibre revolver and fired at him. The bullet passed through the wounded man's hip and lodged in the wall of the car."

"I arrested Hammonds, took his gun and extracted an empty shell. Deputies Garcia and Capadon who were on the case with me pried the bullet from the wall. Hammonds was jailed and charged with shooting with intent to kill."

Hammonds waived preliminary hearing today and is free on $2,000 bond. The case will be tried at the September term of the Circuit Court.

Legion Presents Recording To Episcopal School

A recording of "The Star Spangled Banner" was presented in ceremonies Monday morning to Christ Church Episcopal School on South Beach. Making the presentation was Gen. Louis F. Guere, acting for the Americanism Committee of Clement R. Bon Temps Post 139. Accepting for the school was Rev. Charles R. Johnson, Rector of Christ Church and headmaster of the school.

Among Legionnaires attending the ceremony were Mayor John Scaife, Leroy Luke, Bert Estapa and Laureat Dickson.

In addition to the school faculty the following citizens attended the ceremonies: Mrs. Rene deMontluzin Sr., Mrs. Charles R. Johnson, Mrs. Laura Reuhl, Mrs. Rene deMontluzin Jr., and Mrs. Jacob Vollrath, president of the PTA and member of the Board of Trustees.

Ceremonies started with the invocation by Rev. Johnson, followed by Gen. Guere making the presentation. Gen. Guere noted that he was pleasantly surprised to find how thoroughly Americanism and patriotism were being instilled into the students of the school.

Rev. Johnson pointed out that more than the customary "Three R's" were being taught. He said that non-denominational religious training was "the fourth R" being taught. He added that from the beginning of the school, patriotic ceremonies had been a daily part of the training of the students.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS CLOSED FOR MEETING

Teachers Meet In Jackson, Discuss School Problems

Public schools were closed Tuesday and Friday of last week in order that teachers from Bay High could attend the Mississippi Educational Association meeting in Jackson.

For two days, teachers from all parts of Mississippi met with other teachers in their field, exchanged ideas, and studied school problems. Outstanding educational leaders from all parts of the country were on hand to guide and direct the activities of the convention.

While the future success of the public schools in Mississippi remained dubious as a result of insufficient financial backing from the legislative body of the state, it was apparent that the teachers were still ready and willing to continue the fight for better schools.

The following teachers from Bay High attended the convention: S. J. Ingram, Lamar Farnsworth, Mrs. Kate Lou Byrd, Miss Catherine Cryer, Robert F. Laddner, Miss Lora Smith, Donald Caldwell, Mrs. Juanita Erwin, Mrs. Ethel Zengering, Mrs. Esther Harrell, Bennie Ray Nobles, Mrs. Joe Howze, R. E. Brown, Mrs. Luvenia Saucier, Mrs. Joyce Reedy and Miss Adelle Saliba.

St. Bernard Parish, La., authorities Tuesday were confronted by a set of fingerprints that may mean a drowning victim identified and buried by a Bay St. Louis woman as her missing husband was not the right man.

Sheriff N. P. Trist said as far as he's concerned they don't know who lies in the grave of William Allen Dolan, former inmate of Parchman, Miss., state penitentiary.

"The fingerprints of Dolan from the prison do not match those taken from the body," Sheriff Trist said.

"The case is again classified as an unidentified man."

The new set of fingerprints was forwarded to the St. Bernard Parish sheriff's office from the prison, along with Dolan's record.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Dolan reaffirmed her belief here that her identification of the man was accurate, but added this to the mystery:

"He was my husband all right. But the clothes sent to me as having been taken from his body were not my husband's clothes—they were too large."

"And there was a watch found on his body, too. My husband never carried a watch in his life."

Mrs. Dolan revealed also that "calls were made after I identified him saying I had changed my mind."

"I never made any such calls," she said, these calls are on record in the sheriff's office.

Chief deputy Sidney Torres traced the story to Feb. 18 when the body of a man between 50 and 60 years old was recovered from the Mississippi River at Bay Petroleum wharf in Chalmette, La.

The New Orleans police department was asked to aid and Detective William Bazajou dispatched a team of officers to help in establishing identity.

They took fingerprints of the man—believed to have been in the water four or five days—and sent them to the FBI headquarters in Washington for "positive identification."

Meanwhile, the body was turned over to a New Orleans funeral home and at about that time a description of him appeared in the newspapers.

Mrs. Dolan went to the funeral home of J. J. Ransom & Sons, Inc., in New Orleans, and asked to look at the body. She said her husband had been missing about three weeks and the description of the man found fitted her description.

She identified the body as that of her husband through a scar on the chin, an old bullet wound in the leg and general appearance.

Other old friends from the Bay St. Louis area identified the man as Dolan.

Funeral services were conducted and he was buried here on Feb. 21 as William Allen Dolan.

Then the FBI report on the fingerprints came back and they said they had no such prints on file.

St. Bernard lawmen were puzzled. Mrs. Dolan had told them her husband served time twice, the latest being in 1943 at Parchman State Penitentiary. Usually the FBI has a fingerprint record on all former prisoners.

So they contacted Parchman prison for the record and fingerprints of William Allen Dolan.

These are the prints which are now in the hands of authorities here, which do not match those taken from the body taken from the river.

The St. Bernard parish sheriff's office has again classified the victim as an "unidentified man," Sheriff Trist said.

"The fingerprints don't match Dolan's," Dr. Trist said. "As far as we're concerned the man is still unidentified—he could be anybody."

Mrs. Dolan denies emphatically that she could be any mistake in the identification. She said her inspection of the body was no hasty glance and "it was visible in all respects."

Although stating the claim, she added to her words her indignation. Mrs. Dolan said the story was true. She added:

"For some reason or other someone is trying to pass it off as a case of mistaken identity and I'm going to stick to my guns and say my husband."

She did not elaborate in this connection.

Sheriff Trist said his office will continue to check the man until he is identified.

"They buried him and I'm not going to let it go until I have his prints and all," he said. "The prints don't match. The man is unidentified."

He said any further investigation up to any insurance company is left up to them.

Captain D. J. Ransom, Bay St. Louis Sheriff, said he had contacted Constable Nolan Kingston about the case. Mrs. Dolan and Mrs. Charles R. Johnson had been in the city of New Orleans yesterday. Mrs. Dolan and Mrs. Batey had originally identified the drowned man as that of Dolan.

The two women insist that no error was made in their original identification.

Kingston said Louisiana authorities are checking further with Parchman to ascertain if any error could have been made in the sending of fingerprints.

Mrs. Maybelle Smith is out again after a siege of pneumonia.

Bargain Days Coming Soon Watch for Bates

Representatives of a number of business firms of Bay St. Louis met in the third of a series of meetings at the Chamber of Commerce office in City Hall Tuesday night and formed a "Community Bargain Days" group.

The meetings were for the purpose of setting "community bargain days" for this area. Definite dates will be announced in next week's issue of the Hancock County Eagle.

Plans were made for the first bargain days to be held in the near future, and if successful a series of bargain events will be held at intervals during the year. Prizes will be awarded to the public on the last day.

These plans are being made in an effort to keep "home" money at home. It was pointed out that shoppers can find what they want at local stores if they will just shop here for it.

BLOOD BANK IS ASSISTED BY LEGION AUXILIARY

Members of the Legion Auxiliary of Clement R. Bon Temps Post 139 assisted the Technician of the Hancock County Blood Bank at the Courthouse last Monday. Members solicited donors were Mrs. Arthur Loucano, Mrs. Leroy Luke Sr., and Mrs. John D. Rutherford Jr.

Auxiliary members substituted for the Women's Missionary Society of the Baptist church, who were scheduled to assist the technician. Due to the revival being held this week by the Baptist Church, the Auxiliary members substituted for them. The WMS will assist the blood bank next week.

George Heitzmann, committeeman for the blood bank, thanked the Auxiliary for their assistance, which added several more names to the master list of the blood bank.

GIRL SCOUTS ASSIST LEGION SAFETY PROGRAM

Local Girl Scouts and Legionnaires joined efforts yesterday to promote street safety in Bay St. Louis when they painted a safety slogan, "Live and Stay Alive," on streets at dusk as it is important to interpose and avoid the schools.

Girl Scouts who assisted in the program were Marie Elena Vassal, Betty Houtmann, Clara Kay Miller, Celeste Chevis, Jane Siren and C. M. Maurer. They were chaperoned by Mrs. George E. Heitzmann.

Legionnaires were under the direction of Gerald W. Trist, chairman of the street safety committee of the Clement R. Bon Temps Post 139. Other Legionnaires assisting were Commander Lucien W. Kidd, W. G. Steele, Frank Taconi and Gordon C. Ramonoff.

Commander Kidd said it had been a tiring and messy job but that it was worthwhile, as it might save someone from being maimed or killed.

Chairman Price thanked and congratulated Mrs. Heitzmann and the Girl Scouts on their spontaneous response to the call for assistance.

SPRING FLOWER SHOW OF B-W GARDEN CLUB SET FOR APRIL 9

MISS GERI MARTIN SELECTED FOR STATE CONTEST

Miss Geri Martin was one of two Coast girls selected yesterday afternoon to serve as hostesses in Jackson April 9-10 at the Travel Queen Contest.

Sponsored by the Chambers of Commerce, the Travel Queen Contest had entries from Moss Point, Pascagoula, Ocean Springs, Gulfport and Bay St. Louis. Miss Martin and Miss Beth Williams from Gulfport were chosen. In April they will enter state competition to vie for the title of Travel Queen from the State.

The contestants were judged in bathing suits and in evening dress.

Three judges from Chicago made the selections. They were Mrs. M. Black, Mrs. J. G. Stice and Mrs. G. E. Kugelmann.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Plunkett and children spent the weekend in their summer home on Boardman Ave.

Last Book Review To Be Next Wed.

Memorial Library will hold the last of a series of Spring Book Reviews Wednesday March 31 at 3 p.m. at the Library on Court St.

"Indigo Bend," a novel by Alice Walworth Graham, will be reviewed by Mrs. E. C. Samuel.

Miss Graham, a native of Natchez, has had several of her novels selected by the Book of the Month Club. Among them is the one selected by Mrs. Samuel for this review.

Locate of the story is Natchez.

Mrs. Samuel gained recognition as a reviewer and interpreter of literary personalities when she had her own radio program over WWL from 1940 through 1950.

During that time she interviewed celebrities weekly. Among some of the well known authors heard with her were Frances Parkinson Keyes, Harding Carter, Bennett Cerf, Harriet Kane, Robert Tallant and a host of others.

Robert Key To Present Series Of Television Plays In New Orleans

Robert Key, rising young movie actor now producing and starring in a television series with New Orleans and Louisiana backgrounds, was the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Book of the Month Club at their summer home on Boardman Ave.

Key will be working in his native city for the next several months. A series of half hour plays will be known as Key Productions. They will be presented on a national broadcasting system, and are the first plays of this type featuring authentic Louisiana scenes for scripts written with Louisiana as a background.

Key, who will be starred in the series, is enthusiastic over the setup. He said his role will not include a "private eye" character. One of television's most talented playwrights is under contract to write the scripts.

Each week a well known Hollywood star will be flown to New Orleans to play the feminine lead. Heavy supporting roles will also be played by the ranks of film's well known actors. Lesser roles will be assigned to local talent.

Key, who belongs to the vigorous outdoor male type, is blessed with unusual good looks, a keen sense of humor and an infectious belief in his work. He is unhampered by the often-seen posing that is acquired by so many in the acting profession.

He laughingly admits that he was "born a ham," having had the desire to act all his life, and that he is more aware of the fact than anyone else that he is not, nor will he ever be a second barrymore, he feels that hard work and sincerity can overcome many failings and help those who strive to become a success in the entertainment field.

Another nationally famous young man was with Key, a guest of the Plunketts. He is Jack Kramer, a New Orleans native who made a name for himself in big league baseball. For seventeen years Jack played with the major leagues, has been in two world series and a number of allstar games.

Both young men are keen fishermen, and promise to be in Bay St. Louis often to indulge in this sport during the summer when they can escape from their work in the city.

Key's father and stepmother, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Keyes Sr., reside on de Montluzin St.

Members of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors met Tuesday morning at the Courthouse.

The Board granted the town of Waveland easements and right of way for a gas pipe line along the Bay-Kila road and along the Beach road.

Pipe lines will be brought in by way of Kila.

A donation of $150 was granted to Red Cox and a donation of $50 to Christ Church Episcopal School.

CONGRESSIONAL SIDELIGHTS

by CONGRESSMAN WM. M. COLLIER

A BIG, TOUGH ONE

The House last week considered one of the biggest in actual size and scope ever came before it. It was a bill to revise the income tax laws.

The bill itself ran to 875 pages. I mean, the House Ways and Means Committee took 577 pages to explain the bill and to set out the details of the Majority and Minority Members of the Committee. We are all aware that someone put the bill on a scale and found that it weighed 2 1/4 pounds.

Over 1000 witnesses were heard in a year by the committee. A period of beginning in the middle of June and lasting until mid-August. The period hearings cover 223 pages. Because of a week after Congress convened in January of this year, the House Ways and Means Committee began meeting almost daily in executive session, that is, with only members of the committee and its staff present, going over the legislation item by item, saving obvious political appeal. #### 10,000 Match Covers Is Goal Of This Young Waveland Hobbyist

by CATHERINE STIEFFEL

My hobby is collecting match covers. It is very interesting, even though I only have a little time to spend on my hobby. I have been saving them for about two and a half years. I also have friends and relatives in New Orleans, Texas, New Jersey and Illinois sending match covers to me.

Mrs. Henry Kothman was the person who started me on my hobby. He had taken a trip to Nevada about two and a half years ago and when he returned he had brought my parents some matches from Nevada. My parents used the matches, and I saved the covers, and I have been saving them ever since.

I now have one thousand, two hundred and twenty five match covers, and I would like to reach a goal of ten thousand by the time I am twenty years old, so, if any of you readers of "The Eagle" happen to have taken across some match covers, I would appreciate it very much if you would help me reach my goal.

I keep my match covers in a box, and if I win the prize for the most interesting hobby, I will be able to buy a scrapbook, or something suitable to keep them in.

My address is 762 Robert St., Waveland, Miss., if any of you readers happen to be interested in my hobby.

Thanks very much to The Eagle for making it possible for the readers to know about my hobby.

Got a hobby? If so, why not share it with readers of the HANCOCK COUNTY EAGLE through this column?

You'll enjoy writing about your favorite hobby, and your friends will enjoy reading about it. And remember—a $10 award will be given for the hobby judged most interesting submitted before midnight, March 31.

MRS. RAY STIEFFEL HURT IN FALL DOWN STAIRS

Mrs. H. Ray Stieffel suffered painful injuries last week when she fell down a flight of stairs. The accident occurred when one of the injured woman's heels caught on the top tread. She was thrown the entire length of the stairwell.

She suffered dislocations of bones in the right arm and several broken ribs. Mrs. Stieffel is a patient in King's Daughters Hospital.

AMERICA'S NEW ELECTRIC AGE

American families, farms and factories are using 2 to 3 times as much electricity as they did before World War II. Look around you and you'll see why. The Electric Age is here—in a big way.

But this is only the beginning. Never in the history of the power industry has the future of electricity looked so full of promise for the nation.

The use of electricity is still skyrocketing. And so are the new supplies of electric power. The 800 business-managed electric light and power companies have already doubled the prewar supply and will triple it by 1960.

These companies are building some of the world's largest power projects. And they are teaming up to tackle even larger ones. This program of expansion is bringing everyone more electricity for better living. It's building new businesses and booming old ones... creating new jobs... opening doors to opportunity all across the U. S.

Best of all, electricity remains the biggest bargain in your family budget—and this company is doing its utmost to keep it there!

Annual High School Retreat Scheduled For April 12-14

It has been announced that Father Sheridan, S.J., Director of Retreats at Xavier Hall, Pass Christian, Miss., will be at St. Stanislaus on April 12, 13 and 14 to give the annual high school retreat.

This retreat is given each year to students in the 8th, 9th 10th and 11th grades, in order to afford them a chance to stop and review their spiritual lives and well-being, so that, by taking inventory, they may become aware of their spiritual shortcomings, and by seeing them, correct them.

The three day retreat will begin each morning with Mass. It will be composed of lectures and time for meditation. The Apostolic Blessing, to be given Wednesday afternoon, will end the retreat.

Gulfside Boys School Guidepost for Boys

These boys are not merely trying to memorize abstract numbers. They are learning the meaning of them by making practical their use in a known situation.

Boys in the classroom at Gulfside Vocational School are learning how arithmetic fits into daily living by working in an arithmetic laboratory with Charles G. Randle, director.

A visit in this classroom will find the boys learning measurements with the use of milk bottles, egg cartons, yardsticks and tapes. Information gained here is put in practice immediately in the kitchen while cooking, on the building while doing simple carpentry and painting. Addition and subtraction facts become more enjoyable when the boys use dominos during their recitation period.

Other materials in the laboratory which make abstract figures become real are marbles, calendars, road maps, train and bus schedules, pie plates, bank deposit slips, checks, play money and postal money orders.

Besides this, words are learned, for the boys soon recognize the skin and homogenized milk labels on quart paper cartons. Business transactions are learned by filling in money orders, checks and bank statements.

In another section of the room is a typewriter. Older boys learn to type business letters while the younger boys use it to build up their word vocabulary.

Outside their classroom Gulfside boys get training in agricultural projects, shop work, dramatics and music appreciation. They meet in the home of the director and sing hymns, spirituals and fun songs with his family. They cultivate their spiritual lives by bible study and regular church school attendance. From their religious studies they learn to understand the bible and its meaning. They learn about how God's presence "can be sensed in every sight and act and incident." They learn about the "true quality of life, the beauty of the earth, its seasons and its skies; the brotherhood of man," and the joy of family life.

They meditate upon thoughts about what a Christian believes about the Bible, God and Jesus; about what a Christian believes about the church and the sacraments; about what a Christian believes about sin, salvation, prayer and immortality and what a Christian believes about the future of religion and Christianity.

Gulfside Boys' Vocational School took root in the fertile soil of the Gulfside Assembly of the New Orleans Area by the foresight and courage of its founder, Bishop Robert E. Jones, who is now superintendent of Gulfside Assembly. The Boys' School is a missionary project of the Methodist Church reaching out with faith and hope in boys who, because of social or economic conditions beyond their control have lagged in keeping pace with the gain of modern educational training.

The purpose of the school is to help its boys develop flexible, integrated personalities and to expose them to many helpful experiences with the intent of establishing a solid footing for a well rounded, serviceable life.

To achieve this goal the school bases its work upon four objectives: (1) to provide learning and teaching situations that will help boys become effective participants in community life; (2) to prepare boys to earn a living in a socially useful occupation; (3) to provide training activities that will help boys become responsible citizens in a democracy; (4) to provide training activities that will help boys become responsible citizens in a democracy.

Gleams of light house beams spot perilous coastline rocks that hazard homeward-bound ships. Gulfside is a lighthouse to boys—a guidepost sending them around the perilous rocks of life.

WILLIAM BENNETT, 59 DIES MARCH 11 IN LA.

McDonald's Funeral Service of Piquette handled the body, which was brought to the residence in Pearlington. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with interment in Turtle Skin Cemetery.

The deceased is survived by his wife, Vieta Henley Bennett, three sons, Benjamin, Billy Ray Bennett of Port St. Joe, Fla., and Barney Lee of Pearlington. He was the brother of Mrs. Ann Bennett and the great uncle of Mrs. Wilmer Thibault.

He also is survived by two grandchildren and a number of nieces and nephews.

WAVELAND WANDERINGS

BY GEORGETTE HALL

Many out-of-towners as well as Wavelanders attended and enjoyed the pilgrimage sponsored last week by the Bay-Waveland Garden Club. The home of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Fisher, the fabulous "Pirate House," the beautiful gardens adjoining the Summer residence on Nicholson Ave. and the Stern residence on Beach Boulevard were viewed by about 500 visitors. The weather was beautiful and rainy and everyone was delighted with the "sights."

Mrs. Mary Perkins, principal of the Waveland School, has the sympathy of her friends. Last week while attending a class at Mississippi Southern at Hattiesburg, Miss. Perkins slipped and fell in one of the corridors. Although the fall was painful and resulted in some bad bruises it was not seemingly serious.

However, when pain persisted, Mrs. Perkins was X-rayed and the doctor informed her she had two broken ribs and a broken hand. The injuries have kept her away from the classroom at the school for the last few days. Her many friends wish her a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Norman Hall, Mrs. Lee Olson of Milwaukee, Wis., Mrs. T. H. Brockman, Sr. and Miss Lynne Hall spent a pleasant afternoon last week visiting Ossian Hall in Pass Christian. The beautiful home, a historical landmark built in 1830, is open to visitors from 9 to 5 daily.

Mr. E. O. Cresap Jr. of New Orleans, is building an attractive home on Subral Ave. Mr. W. M. Bozeman is the builder.

Captain and Mrs. Joe Cassard of New Orleans celebrated their 15th wedding anniversary last Friday in New Orleans. The couple renewed their vows in St. Michael's Church on Mississippi St. A reception followed at Lenfant's where about 400 guests wished the couple many happy years to come. Going from Waveland to the Cassards were Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Bozeman, Mr. and Mrs. Travis Bozeman and children and Mrs. Ed Gagnier.

Mrs. Travis Bozeman has returned to her home and her beauty parlor after spending a most enjoyable as well as instructive two days at a meeting of the Mississippi Landreth's Association held at the Buena Vista Hotel in Biloxi on Sunday and Monday of last week. At Tate of Hollywood, Calif., was in charge. According to Tate, hair fashion is gradually but definitely being shaped for the next two years. He lectured and instructed all beauty operators on hairdos that brought "Ohs" and "Ahs" from the ladies.

T. B. Dowden of Kirtland, Miss., father of Mrs. Travis Bozeman, is visiting the Travis Bozeman family.

Miss Janet Dorn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Dorn, Sr., and Earl "Pee Wee" Ladner, son of Charleston Ladner, were married about two weeks ago. On Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. Janet was honored at a miscellaneous show given by Madames A. B. Favre and Mel Villere at the home of Mrs. Favre.

Credit goes to Mrs. Fred Bourgeois for the beautiful decorations. Pink and white streamers floated from a huge wedding bell, and the gifts were attached to the streamers. Table decorations were pink and white and a delicious wedding cake, also pink and white, adorned the center of the bride's table. Guests received basket favors filled with candy.

About 300 guests were present who wished Janet and her groom many happy years of married life.

Mrs. Alex Pritchard of Moss Point and Mrs. Beatrice Todd Yett and daughter, Marilyn, were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Bordages.

That ole debil flu has kept many folks confined to their home again this week. W. R. H. of Nicholson Ave. has been bedded with a painful infection. His friends are glad to hear that he is better.

Roger Bordages has been missed by friends who haven't seen him in the Waveland Food Store for the last few days. He has "one of those colds."

Little Aggie Bourgeois is absent from school due to a cold. D. W. Beyers is recuperating after an attack of pneumonia.

Perhaps now that spring is here everyone will begin to feel better. Let's hope so!

Lt. and Mrs. Walter Turcotte and son, Walter III, are en route to Eltoro, California, where Lt. Turcotte is stationed at the Marine Air Base. The Lieutenant and his family spent the week-end with his parents and sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Turcotte and the Misses Turcotte.

CHURCH SERVICES

CATHOLIC
Rev. M. J. Costello, of St. Clare's Catholic Church, has announced that masses will be held Sunday mornings at 6:00, 8:00 and 10:00 until further notice. The church is located on Beach Boulevard in the 500 block of Waveland beach.

BAPTIST
Brother Robert McNamee of Lakeside and Waveland is in charge. Services on Sunday are 9:00 a.m. Sunday School, 9:45 a.m. Sunday Worship, 5:30 p.m. BTU, and 6:30 p.m. evening worship. ## TARTAVOULLE HURLS NO-HITTER TO BLINK KILN WILDCATS 9-0 SUN.

Bay Seniors won their second straight home game Sunday as they topped the Kiln Wildcats 9-0 behind the masterful no-hit pitching of Charles Tartavoulle.

In his first no-hitter of his career, Tartavoulle showed fine form with his fast ball and newly developed curve. Tartavoulle struck out 15 Wildcat batters in the even inning contest and the Kiln pitchers combined for 15 errors going down the same way. Tartavoulle's no-hitter seemed to be out of the last inning when, with one out, Kiln headoff batter hit a line drive down toward third base that fell into the first baseman's glove. Outfielders Taylor, Cole and Adams had an easy time of it and the ball was out to the outfield during the entire game.

The Seniors' total of only six hits and 18 stolen bases accounted for most of the game. Letting the base stealing was Tartavoulle, who kept the base paths alive as he stole home three times and stole second and third five times for a total of eight stolen bases.

Clayton Adams and Christopher Bell of the batting for the Seniors, each collected two hits. Adams topped the ball for two doubles while Bell singled and tripled. Bell also scored all four runs at bat.

Russell Mitchell pitched most of the game for Kiln, but because of the lack of holding and the Seniors' eagerness for advantages the Seniors were able to score every inning he pitched. In the last inning D. J. Luc took over mound duties for Kiln and after walking two struck out the side.

This gives the Bay Seniors a 2-1 record so far this season. This Sunday they will again go up to Pass Christian Sea Scouts. Christopher Bell, who pitched the initial game against the Sea Scouts with J. C. Nacaise pitching for the Scouts. The game is slated for 2 p.m. at the Pass Ball Park.

BAY SENIOR TO MEET PASS SUNDAY

This Sunday the Bay Seniors will journey to Pass Christian where they will again meet the Pass Christian Sea Scouts. Christopher Bell will hurl against the Sea Scouts, while J. C. Nacaise probably will pitch for the host.

Twice the two teams have met, splitting the games. In the Seniors' other contest this season they topped Kiln 9-0.

The Seniors will enter the game batting 273 as a team. In their three contests they have scored 33 runs for an 11 run per game average. Base stealing has been a great help to the seniors, as they have averaged 12 per game.

Leading the hitting is Christopher Bell with a .400 average and Clayton Adams who is batting .364. Bell also leads in runs scored with 7 and Adams follows with 5. Adams leads in runs batted in with 5 and Tartavoulle is a close second with 4.

In base stealing Bell is far ahead with 11 while Taylor, Adams, Randolph and Morris are tied for second with 4 each. Bobby Ladner and Adams are tied for most doubles with 2 apiece and Adams and Bell each have a triple.
